

In 2011, the Davis Love Foundation added an additional fundraising element to The McGladrey Classic through a charity ticket program called Tix4Kids. Through this program, weekly and daily ticket purchasers can opt to have 50% of their ticket price go directly to one charity of their choice. Charities are given an opportunity to apply for the program with applicants being narrowed down to a core group. In 2011, 18 charities were selected to participate between Jacksonville, Savannah and the local community, and more than $40,000 was raised for their organizations making the inaugural program an astounding success! The Tix4Kids program will continue in 2012 helping to benefit a number of children and family charities.
